St. Bernadette was only fourteen years old when a beautiful lady, dressed in white, with a blue girdle and carrying a rosary, appeared to her in a grotto by the bank of the River Gave. During eighteen apparitions, the lady said three things to her. She asked Bernadette to pray for sinners. She told her to go to the parish priests and tell them that 'people should come in procession to the grotto and build a chapel here.' And, finally, the beautiful lady revealed who she was: 'I am the Immaculate Conception.'

To begin with, no one believed Bernadette but, over time, both the priests and the townspeople became convinced. Why? Because of the clear sincerity and goodness of St. Bernadette. She asked nothing for herself, continued to live simply, and chose to disappear into a convent. Throughout she was an example of prayer and humility. At the same time, Lourdes was becoming a place of pilgrimage where many were experiencing conversion and the sick great care. Lourdes remains a shrine of great love and service. St. Bernadette can be an example to us. She shows us the beauty of faith and trust.

St. Bernadette's relics will arrive at Our Lady of Lourdes in Wanstead on Tuesday morning, 18th October and there will be a simple ceremony of welcome at 10:30am. The relics will be available to venerate from 3pm until midnight. Depending on numbers, it may only be possible to spend a short amount of time in the church, just so that everyone has an opportunity.

You do not have to book to visit the church to venerate St. Bernadette, but booking will help us have an idea of numbers. Bookings can be made here: <https://stbernadette.org.uk/registration/>
